My dearest Papa:-

I havent heard a line from you since you left, why dont you write?

Patty wrote this morning and said that my things were coming Friday or Saturday.

We are having a very exciting time up here. One of the girls lost seventeen dollars, and another six new shirt-waist, today. Every one is very much worried over it. For you see this has been going on so long, but nothing to compare with this. You bet I keep my things locked and the key around my neck. Send me some stamps please when you write for I do so hate to buy stamps from Miss Sutton for she is so cross, and that is the only way we can get them.

Good night. With all my love.
Your devoted, grade.
